

Ancestry.com buys photo scanner 1000memories

The Associated Press

Ancestry.com has bought San Francisco startup 1000memories to help members add photos to their family trees.

The acquisition gives the genealogy website access to 1000memories' ShoeBox mobile app, which scans photos so they can be shared online. The company didn't say how much it paid.

Ancestry.com Inc., based in Provo, Utah, has more than 2 million paying subscribers.
