

Routing Platform Applies Step-by-Step Process

The Dragon Routing Platform from Zuken comes in the form of the Routing Strategy Environment (RSE) that applies the knowledge required for high-speed boards with a guided step-by-step process. The RSE uses a Routing Consultant to guide users through the process. The initial stages begin by working with the user to define the strategy, which later allows the user to create a board. The Routing Consultant also analyzes designs for potential routing problems and has the ability to suggest an alternative strategy. In addition to implementing this way of routing, the system also incorporates routing algorithms and differential pair routing.
